Then I saw a new heaven and earth

- As they measured its length and breadth I could see no temple there, for its only temple is God the Lord and the Lamb in that city fair.

  And it needs neither sun nor moon in a place which knows no night, for the city's lamp is the Lamb himself, and the glory of God its light.
- 5 And I saw by the sacred throne flowing water, crystal clear, and the tree of life with its healing leaves and its fruit growing all the year.

  So the worshippers of the Lamb bear his name and see his face, and they reign and serve and forever live to the praise of his glorious grace.
